

President's Message

As we prepare to finish the binding, add the hanging sleeve, and sew the label on 2016, I extend my deepest gratitude to all the members of the Santa Rosa Quilt Guild who have made my tenure as president one of the best experiences of my life. There is still a part of me that feels like I am the "newbie" of the group, but I doubt I can use that as an excuse anymore for not being able to figure things out. I would be remiss in not naming my strongest advocates; however, by the time I have finished the list and sung your praises, my closing column for the year would take up at least two more pages. You know who you are, and I sincerely thank you.

On the same note, thanks to each and every member of the Guild and to our Affiliates for helping make SRQG the exceptional organization that it is. Your caring, compassion, incredible artistic talents, and outreach to the Sonoma County community set an example that our entire country would do well to emulate.

In an earlier column, I wrote about one of the privileges of being President ... receiving email inquiries from our website. An inquiry from the American Association of University Women requested that SRQG nominate an "unsung heroine" who might be acknowledged in a presentation at the 6th Street Theater by high school students in April 2017. I ran the request by my friends on the Board, and we all agreed that it would be very difficult to come up with just one nominee.

Happy Thanksgiving

I responded: "First, we appreciate the program you're creating and think it's great that you are getting young women involved. I reviewed your request with other members of the Board. We have around 285 members, and each in his/her own right could be considered an "unsung heroine". (Three men are members of the guild.) Last year we created and distributed almost 1500 quilts to groups like Valley of the Moon Children's Home, skilled nursing facilities, veterans, NICU's, and other deserving groups; all the quilts are made without expectation of reward or acknowledgement. A group of individuals made almost 700 knitted bird nests for the Bird Rescue Center; another group made almost 50 "fidget aprons" for people living with dementia. We are a very active group. It would be difficult to call out one person in particular as being more "unsung" than another. If you were to expand your definition to include the entire quilt guild, rather than one individual, your students would be more than welcome to come to one of our meetings to see what we do. We are also joining up with a school in the Roseland area to teach high school kids how to quilt. If you are interested in information about that I can ask the person in charge to contact you. Sorry we are not able to give you the name of only one person. Good luck with your venture."

We are all in this together. We do what we do for the love of quilting, for the love of community, for our love of family and friends, and for our love for each other.

As the holidays are upon us, celebrate the treasure that is you, celebrate your art and your talents, and especially, celebrate that you are an essential element that makes the Santa Rosa Quilt Guild the amazing group that it is.

KAREN COMBS

November 17 & 18, 2016

Karen was with us in 2006, and this time she will be bringing back her very popular “Quilts of Illusion” presentation and “Patchwork Illusions” workshop.

A native of Michigan, Karen Combs began quilting in 1973 while still in high school. She has a degree in library science and has worked at many state, city and school libraries before finding her calling as a professional quilting instructor, writer and designer. She currently lives in Tennessee.

Karen is intrigued with quilts of illusion and has been designing quilts with a 3-D look for several years. Karen is the author of Optical Illusions for Quilters, Combing Through Your Scraps, Floral Illusions, 3 Quilters Celebrate the 4 Seasons, and 3-D Fun with Pandora's Box, co-authored with Sharlene Jorgenson of Quilting from the Heartland. Her newest book is Celtic Pieced Illusions.

November 17 Program

“Quilts of Illusion”

Explore the world of optical illusions with Karen as she shows you some of the wonderful quilts that she has created. A beautiful and inspiring trunk show.

November 18 Workshop

Library News

As another year is all too quickly coming to an end, I reflect on the joys that our guild has brought. Our library continues to blossom with the help of so many hard-working volunteers and with the contributions to our Silent Auction Tables, which totally fund the library. The new year promises to bring us many more interesting techniques in new books to inspire us.

The following is a list of the books that came into our possession since our last newsletter. For images of the covers and more detailed descriptions of the items, just click on LIBRARY on our website www.santarosaquiltguild.org Linda Hooper has written easy-to-understand directions about how to utilize the library site. To locate her instructions, click on the underlined "here" in the second paragraph at the top of the library page. Let me know if you would like guidance with the site and we'll sit down at the Library's laptop computer after a meeting. A hint: if you are looking for an author, remember to type in the last name first, and if you are searching for a book title, type in the first "important" word leaving the a, an, and the's 'til the end.

DOUBLE VISION QUILTS by Louisa L. Smith (a former SRQG speaker)

THE ULTIMATE GUIDE TO ART QUILTING by Linda Seward (TONS of ideas!)

A COZY QUILTED CHRISTMAS by Kim Schaefer (a donation)

Community Quilts

What a wonderful year of quilt making we have had! My closet is overflowing with quilts to be donated to the community. Soon I hope! Thank you to all who help make this service possible. You have donated fabric, made tops and whole quilts at home. You have helped at the quiltathons and the Fifth Thursday work days. You cut and pin and sew and turn and do quality control. Thank you so much.

Lavella Cassinelli and her mini-group make and deliver many quilts for the local veterans. Marlene Sullivan collects and delivers doll quilts in December. Laura Barrett and Nancy Stedman coordinate the Fifth Thursday Retreats and the Quiltathons. Nancy stores batting. Janet Tonkin stores the flannel and quilts and delivers many of the quilts. Pam Beebe is our fearless leader and her house holds fabric, quilts and kits to make more quilts.

In January we will share the totals of quilts delivered to the community this year.

Thank you to all who so generously participate in making quilts for our community!

Pam Beebe, Laura Barrett,
Nancy Stedman & Janet Tonkin

COMMUNITY QUILT SIZES

If you are making donation quilts on your own, these are the approximate sizes most needed.

32" x 40" Baby Quilts	For Sutter & Memorial NICUs, Public Health nursing, & teen moms. We provide kits for making the tops, or you may use your own fabrics.
40" x 60"	For Valley of the Moon and other Organizations serving children in need. Please use bright colors for young children or fabrics that will appeal to teenagers.
50" x 65"	For 18 year olds aging out of the Foster Care system and for women residing at the YWCA Safe House.
40" x 60"	Lap quilts for adults. Given to Secret Santa, women being served by Verity, seniors in local convalescent hospitals, & others.
Doll Quilts	For little girls & boys. We collect them throughout the year and donate during the holidays.

Thank you to all who are involved with this important outreach project!

Friendship Blocks

There are still three open Friendship Blocks: Linda Gilbert's San Francisco blocks, Judy Kubilus's Halloween House blocks and Colleen van de Kraats Anything Sonoma County blocks. Look for an updated FB credit list the first week in January 2017.

I have really enjoyed being the FB Chair for the past two years. I have gotten to know some wonderful people, which was one of the reasons I signed up for the position. I would like to thank Marlene Sullivan and Mary Nurmi as my helpers during those two years. They always jumped in and helped me whenever I needed it! I also would like to thank Linda Hooper for redoing the FB web page. She streamlined the process of getting the blocks posted on the website in a timely and organized manner, and it was easy to access the blocks.

In those two years, I've had two FB credit raffles with the proceeds going to the Library fund, there have been six Community Quilt FB requests and five personal requests. Several people have approached me with ideas for future requests. I have no doubt this program will continue to remain active in the years to come. Janice Juul has agreed to take over the position starting in January, 2017.

If anyone is interested in helping Janice, please contact Janice or myself.

Go! Baby Die Cutter

Mary Reder is generously sharing her magical Accuquilt Go! Baby die cutter with our SRQG members. If you missed Jan Westerman's hands-on TSW on how to use this unbelievable machine, Jan has put together a three-ring binder of instructions and ideas that will live in the same red carrying container.

I am sorry to say that I am not yet an authority on Go! Baby, but Jan Westerman certainly is and can help with questions. You must be trained before checking out the Go! Baby, and it takes just a few minutes – it really is that easy.

I "googled" Go! Baby and found the following:

90% faster than rotary cutters or scissors

Accurately cut up to 6 layers of 100% cotton fabric at a time (will also cut cotton with fusible web adhered, fleece, flannel, denim, wool, felt, silk, and satin – just need to follow the recommendations for how many layers to use)

Safe, easy-to-use design helps reduce hand and arm strain

No need to manually clip dog-eared corners

See why I call this tool magical!

At this time we have only a few very basic dies to be used with the cutter, including a three-size Hexagon die.

If you research on line, or in a shop, and find any particular dies you desire for a quilt you wish to make, please email me before 8:00 a.m., Monday, November 21, and I will see what I can do about ordering the dies with Jan Westerman's assistance.

We are treating the Go! Baby like a library item. You may add your name to the reserve list and check it out. We do ask that the Go! Baby be returned to the very next meeting. And just like a library item, if you lose it or break it, you are responsible for replacement.

Plan ahead – maybe you will be the lucky person to check it out over our long holiday break from December 1 until January 5!

PIQF Bus Trip

What fun we had on the bus trip to PIQF and oh that goodie bag, it was over the top, literally overflowing.

I want to pass on a big THANK YOU to Wendy Mouille for organizing the trip, and collecting funds, and that pesky paper work, making sure we all had a good time, and being there for those that called needing her during PIQF.

Our bus driver was great kept us moving with a tour of the Bay Area.

The ladies that put the goodies bags together—thank you Gari Jones and her crew, Bonnie Clark Cooper, and Barbara Clark for all this:

Fabric bags sewn by Bonnie and Barbara

Margo Pitter for the fabric bundle

Tissue holder and bobbin clips from Bonnie

Chocolates, candy and bottle of water from Gari
Seam ripper and lady bug needle threader from Fran Bolt

Discount coupon from Fabrications in Healdsburg

Scissors from Lakeside Scissors/Rhonda Malone (vendor at PIQF)

DVD Thread Therapy with Dr Bob/Superior Threads (Superior Threads at PIQF)

Plus, we got to pick up a pattern from Fabric Chicks at the show, and Colleen Granger's book of SewLittleTimeQuilting.com

Oh.....and did you hear there was a sewing machine winner on our bus?

Thanks again for a super fun time.

TRACEY BROOKSHIER
February 16 & 17, 2017

February 16 Program “Love Affair with Japan”

Tracey's slides of the Tokyo International Great Quilt Show will amaze you. You'll see gorgeous quilts, and learn about Japanese quilting culture, which is very different than ours. A trunk show of Tracey's quilts designed with Japanese and Asian-inspired fabrics follows.

February 17 Workshop “Sankaku”

Designed to show off beautiful panels or large-scale prints as in Japanese yukata fabric, Sankaku is strikingly graphic using high-contrast values. Concentric triangle borders have a math secret - the blocks in each border are exactly 1" larger than the blocks in the previous border. This relationship continues for each additional border, no matter how large you make the quilt.

Technique Sharing Workshops

Our next and final TSW of 2016 will feature Pam Beebe on November 17th. She will share her technique for making fabric baskets. She also has a special technique for a log cabin block.

As always, the Technique Sharing Workshop is a free demonstration. It is held near the stage after lunch. There will be handouts for those who attend, and a sign up sheet in the back of the room.

I hope you will join us on the 17th. No TSW will be held in December due to the Holiday Potluck on December 1st. Where did this year go????

Being the TSW Chairperson has been a fun position for me, however, I have a health issue to deal with at the beginning of 2017, so I'm looking for someone to pass "the baton" to for 2017. I have the TSW handbook and my list of which techniques were shared in 2016. Also included are ideas suggested to me for next year. If you are interested, let me know and we can meet either at the SRQG Craft Fair meeting on November 3rd and/or Pam's TSW on November 17th.

Many thanks to our SRQG members for your help and support. I hope that you enjoyed the techniques that were shared this year.

Jan Soules Workshop

Jan Soules, Kaleidoscope Quilt
(modified Spider Web)
Friday, October 21, 2016
Luther Burbank Art and Garden Center
2050 Yulupa Ave., Santa Rosa California

It's October...for a few more days, anyway... Who doesn't love the spider web?

When the Jan Soules Program and Workshop was introduced to Santa Rosa Quilt Guild by SRQG Program and Workshop Chair Jan Nilsen three months ago, I was immediately interested. I am especially fond of the spider, the web, and the lore of the web with sewers. The program on Thursday the 20th was a story woven of fine thread and fabric, her borders lovely and smart. Her husband was delightful, demure, and very funny even though I'm pretty sure he didn't say a word. 150 of us laughed often as Jan told her stories tied together with quilts.

This is my second Kaleidoscope Quilt workshop since joining SRQG in 2008. I love the Kaleidoscope with its brightly colored crystals and jewels in symmetric circles. My project bag and machine are packed and ready for the workshop. My materials are black, gold, red, and umbers. Let's do it!

I enjoy greeting my fellow students, spying their stash from the corner of my eye, as we hug...I mean blessing the day with light and love. I thanked our lovely and ever so calm teacher, Jan Soules, for the program she gave the day before - adding anticipation to the pattern and her method of kaleidoscope making. 9:00am - The class begins with announcements. Cell phones should be off or on vibrate or stun during class time, where the restrooms are, what time to expect lunch, and a request for help with clean up from 3:30 to 4:00.

Strip sets are the name of the game - as few as five, as many as one can imagine. No strip larger than 3", no strip smaller than 1". It is best to size or starch your fabrics before cutting the strips. It takes five minimum width of fabric (wof) strips to get nine wedges to make an eight-wedge block (Note: use a good mix of fabrics). Place thick strips on the outside, skinny strips on the inside. Let the fabric tell you which way to press the seams. Remember the secret life of fabric? This is one of those times where we need to observe the way of things. Once the strips sets are pressed, it's time to cut the wedges.

Jan is a smart and caring woman and I super appreciate that she provided us with a pattern for the wedge. How many rulers have I bought thinking I will make a dozen or so of some project - and do I? (Mostly, yes, but I appreciate that she didn't make us buy one specific to her project.)

Lunchtime. Thank goodness for the lunch runner. I believe I would perish if not for this divine creature gathering lunch from Whole Foods a long block and a half away. We break at 11:30 so many of us are very close to the goals we set and don't want to stop but my Golden Gate sammy on toasted sourdough is in the room and I can smell it. I turn my machine off and follow my nose...

Back to work. Assemble the circle of wedges. There are some tips and tricks to keep your wedges in the correct order when sewing the eight sides together. When I use these tips my web is fabulous and easy. If I do not apply them, I unsew. As a bonus, there are extra wedges meaning the leftovers will make a wonderful piece, too. One of my wedges exceeded the size of the rest of the wedges and I'm looking for my seam ripper when she walks past telling me not to worry. Just cut the excess off. Square off the block with four pre-cut, half-square triangles. Add them to the corners and there you have it. I ask Jan to help me with squaring and, much to my amazement; she told me they were square! I said out loud to the class, "Did you here what she said?" Then I thanked her for cutting my strips for me...

As I went back and forth and round and round I observed that there were 20 or so completely different-looking blocks, each as lovely as the next. There were big-name fabrics like Kaffe Fassett and Tula Pink. There were also no-name fabrics. Mine are primarily neutrals, a wee bit of silk, brocade, organza, batiks, and cottons. I hope we get to show them off as a group because my words do not do justice to the talent in the room.

It felt like the workshop went by in the blink of an eye. I completed two of nine blocks and one strip set. As of now all nine blocks are cut to 15 inches have been lain out on the "Design Bed" and put in a pleasing order. When I finish this essay I get to sew them together!

The End...

WORKSHOP WITH JAN SOULES
October 21, 2016

What a fun and relaxing day! Jan guided us in color and pattern choices to make amazing kaleidoscopes. All manner of fabrics showed up on the tables; brights, bold patterns, aboriginals, Kaffe's and many more. The combinations were often surprising and wonderful. You can see a few of the samples in the pictures. No matching of seams, the bolder the fabrics the better and mixing several color families makes for more interest. What more could you ask for in a no stress quilt?

Jan showed us a few tricks to get the blocks centered and squared and ideas for sashing and borders. This is a great pattern to make as a table runner or as a king size quilt. This block is addictive as you don't know what it will look like until you put it together. I, for one, can see many more of these in my future and can't wait for others to bring theirs in to show.

Meeting Etiquette

- ◆ Please avoid chit-chat while someone is speaking to the group.
- ◆ Please peruse the Silent Auction & Boutique before and after the meeting--not during the meeting.
- ◆ Please, do not browse the speaker's table during the meeting.
- ◆ Please set your cell phone to silent mode or turn it off.
- ◆ At Speaker Meetings, please move to the center of the rows and eliminate empty seats, so late-comers will be able to find a seat and not disturb the group.
